

Top 10 Ways Identity Theft Affects You

Insurance

Thief gets insurance as you. Then his driving record affects your rates.

Medical

You could be treated – & misdiagnosed – if a thief's info is in your records.

Social Security

Thieves can get (& default on) loans, access your Social Security benefits & get a passport.

Criminal

A simple traffic ticket results in your arrest for crimes committed by someone using your identity.

Driver's License

Someone steals your license & makes a duplicate with their image.

Synthetic

A person creates a new bogus identity using info from numerous victims. This makes it difficult to figure out how many victims are involved.

Child

Criminals can use a child's identity for years putting a child's future credit rating & ability to get student loans at risk.

Fake Wi-Fi

A thief sets up a Wi-Fi network with the same name as the real one & you mistakenly log on. Using malware, the perp hacks your email & bank accounts.

Posing as Census Worker

Fraudsters collect info by going door to door posing as census workers.

Mining Social Media Profiles

People who don't have privacy settings on their social media profiles are prime targets.
